

Guidelines for Task 1: Narrative

Learning at school and social dynamics that influence the learning process

I. General outline

This assessment aims to examine how different aspects of the context and the conditions for social learning may affect the student's learning process.

For this purpose, you should write a narrative based on the analysis of your own learning experience through the lens of the content in unit 1: "Learning at School and social dynamics that influence the learning process". Consider for example: context, motivation, classroom interaction, intercultural relationships, educational experience, and social learning. Your reflection should follow the Ignatian reflective cycle: Context — Experience — Reflection — Action — Evaluation.

II. Learning objectives

- 1) To reflect on the way social interactions impact the learning process in context.
- 2) To take a stance regarding how the school context impacts learners' development.

III. Technical Aspects

Your written reflective entry should include:

- 700 words
- Ideas developed according to how social interactions impact the student's learning process. These ideas should be distributed as follows:

Paragraph 1: Context: Contextualization of the task (introduction) and a brief school context description. (90-100 words)

Paragraph 2: Experience: How did the context impact your learning? Support your argument with the theory/content seen in the course. (120-150 words)

Paragraph 3: Reflection: Considering the previous section, describe the effects of your experience on your learning process. Could you learn by being part of a community? What type of learner are you today? (160- 200 words)

Paragraph 4: Action: Is there anything you would like to improve about your learning process? What would that course of action be? (150 - 200 words)

Paragraph 5: Evaluation: How would this action benefit your future learning? : How has this task helped you in developing your understanding of the influence of social dynamics on learning? Explain. (90-150 words)

- Consider using these sections as subtitles to organise your ideas.
- Your narrative must include a cover page and reference list (APA 7th)
